It was a day of very strong Westerly winds that caused a bit of havoc amongst the fleet. Ray being the first casualty with a broken goose neck that saw him retire after just 2 races and Barry suffering a similar fate later in the day. The rest of us battling on, doing our best to stay upright and keeping clear of our fellow competitors. It was a struggle at the top mark [pink tree buoy] where the wind got split by the tree and went in two directions, making it difficult to approach the mark because of the instant change of direction. Somehow we managed to get in six races and then called it quits because of the conditions. Well done to Judy and Colin both of whom sailed consistently. Have a great week. Cheers Bunny
